Editors Notes: Paper money continues....HOT!!!

I was able to pick up an attractive lot in the FUN Auction...a Wisconsin Territorial that fits my collection nicely...The Prairie Du Chien Ferry Co Bank. A great $3 bill issued in 1838 and pretty scarce. A friend and I are tracking these auctions now on the computer, as you can see where the on-line bidding is, up until a day or so before the live part of the Auction. Heritage, in the person of our Old friends from C.A.A. Lynn Glazer, et al, have great photos of the lots, front and back and archival info from earlier auctions so you can look at bidding history and sometimes find the same note and what it sold for previously...a lot of fun if you have not been in on this...I've looked at lots on Lynn Knight's offerings as well, no backs there, yet...Large Size Type continues strong...especially if there is 'eye' appeal.

As always I am saving up for Memphis...just 3 ½ months as I write this with 14 inches of snow on the ground in Wausau...melting fast, it was 21 inches last week. Club membership continues strong...thanks to our champions Frank Clark and a new membership voice this issue....Donald Patrick. We also see this trend continuing in other clubs I am involved with. The Fractional Currency Collector's Board continues to add members on a monthly basis...I suspect this is part of the hobby growth that is currently taking place and especially highlights newer collectors thirst for information.

Presidents Column:

2004 enters as a promising year. An election year is usually a promising year and this year looks to be very good. No War, at least at the present time, the terrorism factor is slowly subsiding, and the stock market is booming. I was in Florida for the FUN Convention and all the dealers were having a great show. The aisles were full of people. Attendance was up this year in comparison to previous years and the hall was really abuzz. That Convention Center keeps getting bigger all the time. Now they have added a whole new building across the street that is a real monster. There were 3 or 4 different shows going on, all in the same week.

One of the 'Shows' I always enjoy is the 'Parade of the Ducks' at the Peabody Hotel. They keep these ducks up on the 4th floor and bring them down to the lobby fountain area every day at about 9:00 AM. Then they leave them there on their own until 4:30 PM and then lay out a red carpet for their waddling return to the elevator and the ride back up to their coup. Quite a Show. This year one of the ducks even laid an egg!

Currency Auctions of America is now connected to Heritage and they had a big auction of Michigan Obsoletes and Michigan Nationals. The prices realized may not have been as high as expected due to the venue. Hardly any Michigan collectors were there, so most notes went to dealers who were there on the floor. Still, the notes brought good prices.

The Michigan State Show in November at Dearborn, this past year, was another well attended show. PMCM was one of the co-hosting clubs that helped put on the show so we received $2,500 for our hard earned efforts. This helps keep our treasury healthy.

Bill Brandimore won the Best of Show Award for PMCM for his superb exhibit this last Fall at MSNS. He took home the traveling plaque that contains a real life first National Bank of Detroit note that is a beauty and he can keep this plaque until the Fall MSNS show...so, all you guys and gals, its time to go to work and put together an exhibit and try and win this award.

My stay in Florida from the end of December until early May has been super nice, so far. All this sunshine is very addictive and relaxing. The golf and fishing aren't too bad, either. So I will miss the Spring MSNS Show...in the meantime, Happy Collecting!

President, Wally Lee

OUR COVER THIS ISSUE: A Type 2 UP National on The Gogebic NB of Ironwood. One of just a few type 2's on the bank. UP small went crazy at Lynn Knight's late February Chicago Auction.....these notes aren't sleepers any more, especially type 2's.

Club News: CCCC, The Currency club of Chester county keeps on rolling...a great newsletter with lots of articles and great information. Good programs are the heart and soul of a successful club...if you have programs...you retain members...especially if members are willing to share their treasures in 'Show and Tell'. Some coming attractions 'programs' at CCCC, to give you an idea: Mandatory Show and Tell- was held 2/19. The Ming Note scheduled for 3/18; Lighthouse vignette notes set up for 4/15. Massapequa Coin club's Coin, collectible and Currency Show was held March 6. Look for this Show next year in th Spring. For advance publicity I need these shows as much as 4 months out. I am going to begin highlighting coming attractions, however, so let me know way in advance and I'll include them in a 'Billboard' notice for PMCM'ers.

COMING ATTRACTIONS: Central States, In Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Thursday, May 6 (PNG Day) through Sunday, May 9. Lots of Paper and most of the top paper money dealers attend. People like Glen Jorde and Tom Denley, etc. The Great Memphis Paper money Show, Thursday afternoon...set-up, June 10, through Sunday, June 13. Thanksgiving weekend...Dearborn, Michigan, The Fall Michigan State Show. Friday through Sunday. Of course, Sunday's tail off quite a bit and there continues to be early departures by dealers...who react to market forces...lack of customers...and like to see their families once in a while....so, if you're looking for a special piece of paper...try and get to those shows on Friday morning or Saturday morning, for sure...its pretty picked over by late Saturday. Write and tell me about your show for inclusion here!

$2 Federal Reserve Note Potpourri
By Frank Clark

One of the most popular series of notes to collect is the small size $2 Federal Reserve Notes. There are two series for these notes, Series 1976 and Series 1995. I was looking at my collection and decided to share a few notes with you.

I want to discuss "star" notes first. These are notes that have a "hollow star" that replaces the suffix letter in the serial number. This star represents a "replacement" note that has replaced a damaged note in the printing process. "Star" notes are numbered independently of regular notes. There is no need to match up "star" note serial numbers with the serial number of the note it is replacing.

A000000628* on the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston
I000000452* on the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis
K000000132* on the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas
K000000612* on the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

Also, it is possible to collect "label sets" in the $2 Federal Reserve Note series. A "label set" is the first and last note from a "brick" of 4,000 notes plus the label that tells you what Federal Reserve Bank the notes are on, that 4,000 notes are in the "brick", the denomination, the total dollar amount of the "brick", the package number of the "brick", lines for Bureau of Engraving staff to sign and date as assemblers, verifiers, banders and wrappers and the beginning serial number of the first note in the "brick". Realistically it is only possible to collect label sets since 1963 when the first small size $1 Federal Reserve Notes were introduced. There are very few labels and label sets in existence that pre-date 1963 along with labels for other types of currency such as silver certificates, United States notes, etc.

Currency labels and their configuration have changed over the years. Depending on the series you may have a front and end label, or just a front label; first and last serial number in the "brick" listed or just the first serial number or a combination of the above two main categories. These details are beyond the scope of this article. Today's labels are barcoded to enable scanning.

Series 1976 $2 Federal Reserve Notes have a front and end label with the first serial number in the "brick" listed. The front and end labels are identical except for the fact that BEP staff only sign the front label. End labels do point outward. Each denomination's label is printed in a different color. Labels for $2 FRN's are printed in green.

Shown here are two fancy number label sets that are accompanied by a blue insert "NOTICE" tag to not issue the notes to the general public prior to April, 13, 1976. This was the official release date and Thomas Jefferson's birthday. Both "bricks" were assembled and wrapped on March 4, 1976.

The first "brick" is package 0025 and begins with serial number K00096001A and ends with serial number K00100000A with the added bonus of note K00099999A being the penultimate note. The second "brick" is package 0125 and begins with serial number K00496001A and ends with note K00500000A.

I am very fortunate to have added the notes that are discussed in this article to my collection over the years.
